Lancaster, Ky.

Are we to have any kind of a light on the top of the tall water tower?

The new water tower will rear itself in the air to twice the height of the court house cupola, and that's up some.

The Record is prepared to do all kinds of job work, speedily and satisfactorily, both as to quality and price. Give us a call.

Farmers are already making preparations for a bumper crop of tobacco this year. They will begin burning plant beds in next month.

Every town in Central Kentucky is being exploited as the future "tobacco market of the world", but when it comes down to the goods, none of them have anything on Lancaster and Old Garrard.

Parcels Post Information.

The Record offers to its patrons this week an entire page of information in regard to the newly established parcels post. This information is complete and authentic and should be preserved for ready reference.

Many Strangers in Lancaster.

Never before were the faces of so many strangers noticeable upon the streets of Lancaster. As is customary, the coming of the new year brings new people to town, and various work going on, upon the school building, the water tower and the tobacco interests, there are many people here to look after the various lines of work.

Like A Letter From Home.

Did you know the Central Record would be one of the best New Year gifts you could send an absent friend who has once lived in our midst. Each week it is a long, newsy letter to the absent ones about the folks back in the old home town. We have read several letters thanking not only the giver but the editor for being prompt in sending it as it was looked forward to fifty two times a year.

Think of your absent friends and come in and give us their names.

Mr. Elkin To Sell Ford Automobile.

Mr. Robert L. Elkin of the Record office has accepted the agency for the Ford automobile, and in the near future, so he tells us, expects to have a car load of these popular machines in Lancaster. The Ford has had several severe tryouts at the hands of Lancaster people and has invariably given satisfaction, and with the energy which Mr. Elkin is accustomed to putting in all of his undertakings, he will no doubt be able to place many new machines in Garrard county with the opening of favorable climatic conditions.

Telephone Us The News.

The Record is glad to publish at all times any news that is of interest to its readers. If you have a visitor or there has something happened to you or yours worthy of mention, which we have failed to note, rest assured it is because we failed to learn of it. Our telephone number is 48. Call us at any time and tell us what you know and we will be glad to give it space in our paper.

To The Ladies.

The controversy as to the ownership of the Park has been settled. It belongs to the town. A good time to strike is while the iron is hot. Now while the weather prohibits any kind of beautifying, would be a good time to urge upon the city council the request that the ladies be given supervision over this centrally located plot of ground; also to looking after funds sufficient to carry out the plans heretofore outlined looking to its beautification, so that when the weather will permit, the actual work may be started without the necessary delay incident to the arranging of these preliminaries.

Record Late And Issued Under Difficulties.

The Record is late this week and was issued under stress of great difficulty. Accidents are unavoidable, and printing offices are no exception to this rule. Just as we started to press a cog wheel attached to the big news press broke and it could not be repaired or replaced at home. The Business Manager rushed off to Louisville with the faulty piece of machinery and after the unavoidable delay incident to such occasions we were enabled to resume "the run". We hope that such an accident will not occur again, but we can not vouch for it, and under the circumstances, we will have to beg the indulgence of our patrons.

Roy Arnold Secures Patent On Buggy Attachment Which Is Calculated To Become Very Remunerative.

Mr. Roy M. Arnold, the Danville buggy man, has been using an attachment on his 1912 buggies, it is called "a double reach, re-inforced inside gear", which has proven of such benefit that he has had it patented and hereafter every buggy turned out of his shop will be equipped with the contrivance, not only this but it is calculated to bring Mr. Arnold considerable remuneration as it is a very useful contrivance.

Roy Arnold is an old Garrard county boy, a son of the late Roy Arnold of the lower end of the county, and a brother of Mr. Thomas M. Arnold Jr. of Lancaster. By his gentlemanly conduct, fair dealing and business acumen, he has succeeded in building up a business in Danville second to none of its kind in central Kentucky. Mr. Arnold is respected as one of the best business men and leading citizens of Boyle county, and the people of his old home are proud of him and hope that his success may continue.

Deplorable Accident, Mr. Henry Kuhlman Meets Death Under Wheels Of Freight Train At Lowell.

Mr. Henry Kuhlman was struck by the morning freight train at Lowell Tuesday morning and sustained injuries from which he died in about six hours. The morning freight, "Old Henry", was just pulling into Lowell when Mr. Kuhlman stepped in front of the engine, the pilot striking his legs below the knees, breaking both legs and injuring him about the head and body, and inflicting internal injuries. It is not known how Mr. Kuhlman happened to step in front of the moving train, or whether or not he failed to see it. The old gentleman was extremely deaf and if anyone called to him, he could not have heard them. He was the railroad agent as well as postmaster at Lowell and was accustomed to meet the trains. His remains were brought to Lancaster on Wednesday, and after short services at the grave by Rev. Politt were placed at rest in the Lancaster cemetery. Mr. Kuhlman was 72 years old and is survived by his wife, who was Miss Margaret Naylor before marrying Mr. Kuhlman, and by three sons by a former wife, Thomas Kuhlman who was associated with his father in business at Lowell, and William and Charles Kuhlman, both of whom are somewhere in the west.

Mr. Henry Kuhlman was an upright, honest man and a good citizen and held the unstinted respect of all who knew him. Many years ago as a poor German he began work for the distillery company at Camp Nelson in this county, and by frugal living and economy, he accumulated enough money to put in a small stock of goods at that place; his business thrived and for a long time he conducted a thriving mercantile establishment. He left there and purchased what is known as the "Gate Dunn farm" near Bryantsville, living there several years; he sold the farm and moved to Lancaster where he resided for some time before engaging in business at Lowell. Together with his son Thomas he engaged in the general merchandising business at the last named place and has succeeded in building up a thriving business. Mr. Kuhlman was a devout member of the Methodist church and in whatever community he chanced to dwell, he quickly took rank as one of its most respected citizens.

Pastor Called.

The Presbyterian Church at Old Paint Lick which has been without a pastor for more than a year, has called to their pulpit Rev. W. M. Eldridge, a minister of more than passing note, he will reside at Paint Lick. Rev. Eldridge will also have charge of the church at Kirksville. He will begin his pastoral duties on next Sunday the 12th. He will preach at Kirksville on the 2d and 4th Sabbaths at 11 o'clock A. M. and the 1st and 3d Sabbaths at 3 P. M. and at Paint Lick on the 1st and 3d Sundays at 11 A. M. and on the 2d and 4th at 3 P. M.

Some Bouquets This.

Editor Green Clay Walker, who has made the Lancaster Record, a most excellent paper for the past several years, has sold his interest in that paper to Mr. Joseph E. Robinson and will devote his time to his practice of the law. Mr. Robinson has taken up his pen as editor and proves in his first edition that he is the right man for the place. He will be assisted by Mr. R. L. Elkin as business manager, and Mr. George Smith, Jr., who seems to be a part of the office outfit, will remain with the Record and will continue to make the local pages of that paper team with bright, crisp local lore.—Richmond Climax.

Competent Editor.

Hon. Joe E. Robinson, of Lancaster, this week assumes charge as editor of the Central Record, in that city. Mr. Robinson, who is a prominent attorney at law, and county attorney for that county will do the editorial work on the paper, but will not allow it in any way to interfere with his lucrative law business. As county attorney Mr. Robinson has made an enviable record in securing conviction of criminals. He has been a vigorous and absolutely fearless prosecutor, and performed his duties to the satisfaction of all. He will not be a candidate for re-election. In fact Mr. Robinson is not a candidate for any office. He is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat, and a hard worker for his party. We welcome Mr. Robinson on the tripod and wish for him every success.—Danville Messenger.

The Bastin Telephone Co. Proves A Temporary Stumbling Block To The Efforts Of An Infant Industry.

The Hubble Telephone Co. an industry as yet in its infancy, but rapidly becoming a lusty infant, met with a temporary rebuff last week in their efforts to get connection with the Cumberland people into Lancaster, however, the larger corporation was duly notified that "a child must crawl before it could walk", and that the now infant would soon gather strength that would enable them to force their now overbearing competitor to not only come to their terms as to connection, but to grant them other concessions which they asked and desired.

The Hubble Co. has an exchange at the residence of Mr. A. P. Sloan about one mile south of Hubble and already have about seventy five phones and are putting in new ones every day.

One day last week a representative of the Cumberland Co. met with the directors of the newly organized and established Hubble Co. with a view of devising some means by which the two lines might connect into Lancaster. Several propositions were offered and were as readily rejected by the Hubble people, when the long expected information was forthcoming from the Cumberland people that they had a contract with the BASTIN TELEPHONE CO. covering Garrard county territory, and that no definite steps could be taken looking to granting the Hubble people connection into Lancaster until after the Bastin people had been consulted and acquiesced in any prospective arrangement. The Hubble Co. while an infant industry is not so puerile as might be imagined, and the more arrogant companies under the recently enacted laws of the state of Kentucky, can and will be brought to see the matter in the proper light, and their present arbitrary attitude is but a play for time, and in due course of time they will be compelled to grant connection to the Hubble people, both into Lancaster or any other point on their system to which they may desire connection.

Chapter 143 of the Acts of 1912 of the Kentucky Legislature fully covers the matter and provides specifically for the connection of exchanges operated by different corporations, and under this act the Hubble people can force the Cumberland people to give them connection, regardless of any existing contract that the latter company may have with the Bastin Telephone Co., and the latter company cannot dictate the terms of "Garrard county territory", as to whether or not the Hubble people or any other telephone company may or may not get connection into Lancaster.

The Hubble Co. we predict will not be bluffed by the Cumberland people, they are not ignorant as to their rights under the law, nor do we believe they will be slow in asserting those rights, and the Bastin people and their contracts to the contrary notwithstanding, we firmly believe that the very near future will see the Hubble people with connection into Lancaster over the lines of the Cumberland people, and in possession of all other rights and privileges vouchsafed them under the laws of the state of Kentucky.

The party primary law enacted by the last General Assembly may not be perfect in all its provisions. We note some suggested changes that if made would probably be very acceptable. However, far from being perfect, this law removed so many obnoxious features of nominating candidates that existed under the committee regime, that we are not disposed to make any loud protest. We can still welcome any change in the primary law that will further abridge the authority of the committee in influencing party nominations. Party organization is so closely associated with all departments of government from the county up to the government at Washington that nominations are of little less importance than the final election, for from the party nominees of some party the public servant is generally selected. The public demand, that the nominee shall be the choice of a majority of the party is as good principle of government with us, as that the officer elected shall have the votes of a majority in the final election. Before the present primary law most nominations were the handwork of the party committee, and the selections were not always of the best material for the offices, nor did their selections always reflect the wishes of a majority of the party, but with this committee were not controlled by law nor influenced by an oath. Factions and disruptions of the party in this county and other places in the state came almost universally from some unbearable wrong committed by the party committee. While a repetition of these conditions are rendered almost impossible by the primary law, the party committee still has considerable power. We may mention, that in case of a vacancy in a nomination after the primary is held on the first Saturday in August, will be filled under the direction of the committee, officers of the election who are to poll and count the vote are named through the committee. The Democratic party will soon be in full authority at Washington, as it is now in the state. Its opportunities are great. Every detail of the organization should be carefully guarded. The party committee still has sufficient authority under the law to make its selection of great importance. Only those Democrats should be selected January 18th, to serve as committeemen who can be trusted to act honestly under all circumstances for the best interest of the state and the party. Every democratic voter can serve his country and his party by taking the necessary interest to secure such a committee.

We shall be glad to receive communications from our patrons containing suggestions that may aid us in making the Record more useful to our readers. We likewise will appreciate any friendly criticism that will enable us to steer clear of the pit falls that we may be near. We will publish such signed articles as are sent to us that we think will be helpful to the community, and at the same time will not cause strife and ill feelings among the people. It shall be our endeavor to build up and not tear down, help and not injure the people of the county. In sending us these communications please remember that we must exercise our own judgment in what should be published, and if your article is not seen in our columns it is not because we necessarily believe it unfit to publish, but we may think it unwise at the time to bring about such discussion as the article would necessarily raise. If your first article is not published write us again. The second communication might be on some subject we would be glad to have and be highly beneficial to the public.

Senator Joseph Bailey of Texas retires from the U. S. Senate by voluntary resignation, disappointed and disgruntled. He entered congress from Texas about twenty years ago and soon demonstrated his superior intellectual attainments. He was the idol of his party and a trusted leader. He soon forsook the people and became the representative of the privileged interest in Congress. He has often received the severest criticism by his party associate, and was unable to retain the confidence of his constituents, and leaves his place in the Senate with little regret from any source. It is said that he has amassed a large fortune during his stay in Washington, but we venture the suggestion that it all would not repay him for the loss of standing and confidence of his fellows.

It was announced through the columns of the daily press last week that President-elect Wilson had tendered the portfolio of the Secretary of State to Hon. William J. Bryan, and that the latter had accepted, and there was great rejoicing among the friends and admirers, whose names are legion, of the distinguished Nebraska. However, the announcement was both premature and incorrect, as Mr. Wilson has since announced that there is no man in the United States who as yet knows a single member of his cabinet, and that he had not as yet offered a single portfolio to anyone. He further announced that he had as yet reached no definite conclusions as to the plans for an extra session of congress.

Major Foxhall A. Dangerfield Distinguished Citizen Of Lexington Dies.

Maj. Foxhall A. Dangerfield, a member of the Kentucky Racing Commission, formerly a distinguished Confederate soldier, and who served with Gen. Robert E. Lee in Virginia campaigns, died at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington on Sunday after a long illness of a complication of diseases, his death being due however to heart failure. For some months Maj. Dangerfield has been confined to his home in Lexington, and he did not long survive his arrival there. His remains were taken to his old home at Harrisonburg Va. for interment.

Progressives to Fight in Earnest For County Offices this Fall.

Pursuant to a published call by Hon. W. S. Lawill, of Danville, Ky. State Chairman, the new Progressive party will meet in Louisville, Ky. on January 28th, at the Henry Watterson hotel. The stated purpose of the meeting is to inaugurate a move to have candidates for all county offices to be voted for at the November election and arrange the details of the contest. Mr. Lawill is an aggressive fighter and from his criticism against the two old parties, means to make a fight to win or lose. He arraigned Billy Klair, democrat and Mr. Garret, republican of the Kentucky Railroad commission for turning the people down in their effort to raise the assessment of the corporations of the state, and accuses them of acting in favor of the special interests of the state. He raps the democratic party for not giving the people the public utilities commission, and for not incorporating in its program the initiative, referendum and the recall of unworthy public officials. The Progressive party has been strong in this county and the meeting in Louisville on January 28th, will probably find a number of enthusiastic Progressives from Garrard county in attendance.

Elmore-Blanton

The marriage Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock of Miss Norma Elmore, of this city and Mr. Robert Dunlap Blanton of Athol, Ky., occurred at the home of the brides parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elmore, Elder F. M. Tindler performing the ceremony.

According to the wish of the bride the wedding was a quiet affair; the invitations were verbal the assembled guests numbering about 50 relatives and friends. The handsome apartments were decorated in the holiday colors, red and green and a background of vines, palms and other foliage indicated the position of the bridal party. Misses Lydia and Mary Elmore young sisters of the bride served as attendants, attired in white and preceded the contracting couple. A musical program arranged by Miss Letty Mae McRoberts was prepared for the happy occasion, the numbers including Wagner's "Evening Star" "Often The Silly Night" "My Marguerite" was rendered by Mrs. John M. Mount and Lohengrin's wedding march and several piano selections were skillfully executed by Miss McRoberts among them a softly modulated harmony throughout the minister's beautiful marriage ceremony.

The bride, never more lovely than on her nuptial morn, was dressed in a beautiful blue tailor-made traveling suit with becoming hat and other appropriate accessories, while the groom wore the conventional attire befitting a morning affair.

After the marriage, Mr. Blanton and bride left for Eastern Kentucky where Mr. Blanton is a member of the firm of Blanton, Mason and Hanger, engaged in railroad construction. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glickerson, of Lexington, Mrs. Lowry Baird and Miss Iva Baird, of Shelbyville, Miss Ida Blanton, and Mrs. Jess Cobb and daughter Miss Lillian of Richmond.

Several prenuptial affairs were given the bride elect, Mrs. John E. Stormes entertained at a handsome buffet luncheon, and a 6 o'clock dinner was given by the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elmore.

The Newspaper A Benefactor.

The impression seems to prevail all over the country that a newspaper is kept up by the generous donations of the public, when in reality a newspaper is more of a benefactor to the public than anything existing in the community. There is not a week but that the paper is donating through its columns to the upbuilding of the town and county, putting before the masses the highest ideals in life. Morality, religion and civic pride are constantly kept before the public through the news paper.

Here's Hoping He Wins.

Richard G. Pettus a former resident of Garrard county is a candidate for the nomination for county judge of Pulaski county subject to the action of the democratic party, and the Record as well as a vast number of his friends back here in Garrard are hoping he will be successful.

The people of Pulaski would make no mistake in electing Mr. Pettus county judge. He is a conservative business man, and would look after the affairs of the county in the best possible manner. He is an upright, honorable gentleman and a true blue democrat. Pulaski, heretofore a rock ribbed republic stronghold, has undergone a political change of late, since the advent of the progressives into the arena, and the democrats have not only hopes, but a fighting chance to elect a ticket. It may be that "Dick" Pettus may become "Judge Pettus" with the ideas of November.

Democratic Committee Will Be Elected January Eighteenth.

In adopting the rules that should govern the party, the last Democratic state convention at Louisville, decided that new committeemen should be elected by the party in each precinct in Kentucky, and Saturday, January 18th, 1913 was the day named. Democrats of each precinct are called to meet at their voting place at 2 o'clock P. M. standard time on that day, to be presided over by the present committeemen of the precinct, and the majority of the voters present will name the committee to serve the party until another state convention directs a re-organization. In the event of a present vacancy in the precinct committee it is the duty of the chairman of the county committee to name a democrat of the precinct to preside. Considerable interest is being taken over the state in the selection of the new committee on account of the numerous candidates and applicants for office.

Parcel Post Pointers For Practical People.

Ordinary stamps are not good on parcel post, nor are parcel post stamps on other mail matter like letters.

Either kind of mail with the wrong stamps will be treated as if it had no stamps on it and you will be the loser. You can't mail explosives, pistols, dynamite, whisky nor infernal machines.

Salted meats, dried, smoked or otherwise cured may be shipped regardless of distance but fresh meats may be shipped only within the first zone.

Eggs as well as butter are mailable when so packed as to prevent damage to other mail matter.

Live queen bees are mailable if they are boxed so they won't sting the mail man.

All packages must be securely wrapped so they will do no damage to other mail matter or to men handling them. All sharp points must be protected, fragile articles and those containing glass must be so labeled. Perishable articles must be marked perishable.

Packages on the rural routes will be delayed if you fail to put on enough postage, but extra postage will be collected from the recipient.

Lancaster zone extends for fifty miles in a circle. Such towns as Danville, Harrodsburg, Stanford, Lexington, Frankfort, Nicholasville, Lawrenceburg, Lebanon etc. are in our 1st zone.

Louisville and Cincinnati are in our 2nd zone, the rate is therefore higher and we cannot ship perishable stuff to those cities.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

Garrard County Tobacco Establishes Record Price, And Buyers From All Over The Country Are Claiming For It, The Demand And Price Are Unprecedented.

We have always contended, and have often stated through these columns, that the quality of tobacco raised in Garrard county was not surpassed the world over, and our contentions are now being daily borne out. On January 2nd, at the Madison county Warehouse in Richmond, with the opening of the market for the new year, the crop of Messrs James and Steve Curtis, about 4000 pounds, raised on a Back Creek bottom on their farm on the Kirksville pike in this county, brought from 13 to 35 cents per pound, and AVERAGED 29 CENTS PER POUND, and contrary to the general theory of high grade tobacco, it did not weigh light, the crop was raised on about 2 1/2 acres of ground, and 4000 pounds of high grade tobacco on this amount of ground is a splendid yield. Since this sale buyers from all over the county have been flocking into the county seeking to buy tobacco. Scarcely a day but one or more foreign buyers are registered at the local hotels, seeking high grade tobacco, and willing and anxious to pay fancy prices if they can secure just the article of which they are in search. Garrard county just now seems to be the Mecca for all seekers after the high class weed, and very few of them go away disappointed.

When the Curtis crop was sold it was thought surely the high water mark was reached, but such was not the case, on an adjoining farm, raised upon identically the same class of ground, is the crop of Mr. Ben L. Kelly, who for many years has been considered the prize tobacco grower in the state, his product usually topping the market at the Lexington breaks, where he has been accustomed to market it, and so well is Mr. Kelly's reputation established as one of the best growers and handlers in the state, that the leading buyers await anxiously the arrival of his offering on the market.

But this year, the tension grew too great, after the Curtis crop was sold and the report went abroad as to its superior quality, buyers began to drop in on Mr. Kelly almost daily with tempting offers for his crop, until one party on last Saturday offered him the handsome price of 32 1/2 CENTS PER POUND IN HIS BARN, which offer was accepted and the crop will be marketed over the Richmond breaks. This does not mean that he is to have this price for so many pounds and so many more at a smaller figure, or "so many pounds off", but 32 1/2 cents per pound for his entire crop at his barn, the purchaser to bear the expense of marketing it.

These prices establish beyond the possibility of contradiction the fact that we have the ground and that we have the growers, the ground most admirably adapted to the raising of the very highest grade of burley tobacco, and the men best acquainted with the best methods of handling the crop, from planting to stripping, and of preparing it for market so that it will appear to the very best possible advantage and command the best market price.

All these things we have, and yet are we dependent upon other counties to furnish us a market for our finished product, thus vitiating by almost one half the good result of our favorable condition and hard labor, and allowing a vast amount of the profits to fall into the coffers of our more progressive neighbors.

However, the awakening is at hand, our people are rapidly coming to a realization of the rare opportunity which they have been allowing to escape them, and talk of the establishment of a home market is heard on every hand. Men who have heretofore taken little interest in the matter have become interested, have at last awakened from their Rip Van Winkle lethargy, and have come to realize that a splendid investment for them, and a resultant good to the entire community, has been for years disregarded. Not only have they reached the realization of the fact, but they are beginning to think of some means to remedy it, they are ready and willing to assist financially any plausible scheme that would provide a home market. Within the last few days, just since the marketing of these prize crops, which seems to have more than anything else had a tendency to open the eyes of the people, we have heard several of our citizens right here in town say they were ready, willing and anxious to assist financially in the establishment of a market in Lancaster. All that is now needed is concerted action, some one to take the matter up and place in a tangible form, to organize a company and arrange the preliminary details. It is useless for the Record to go into details about the establishing of a tobacco market in Lancaster. We have time and again pointed out to the minutest detail the advantages that might accrue from such a step, the advantages not only to those directly interested, but to the merchants and the community at large. For the last few years we have been urging upon the people of the town and county the many advantages to be derived from a "home market for home products" and once before we have thought that our efforts were going to be prolific of good results, only to see our hopes dashed to pieces through the ceaseless knockings of a few people who are deeply interested in seeing that we DO NOT get a home market. But this time the advantages have been so strikingly brought home to our people that we do not believe that all the efforts of those who are interested to the contrary will be of any avail in deterring them from establishing a market.

Of course it is out of the question to think of establishing a market here this year, but the matter will be taken up, the ground thoroughly gone over, every phase of the question carefully studied, and we firmly believe that before the time for marketing another crop of Garrard county tobacco, that a market will be established AT HOME, and one of such comfortable proportions as to be able to accommodate the entire output of the county.

National Conference Of Temperance Workers Meeting Held In Washington

D. C. Gives Promise Of Splendid Results.

At the National Conference of Temperance Workers held in Washington D. C. on Dec. 16, 17 and 18th, there was present 360 members of the Anti-Saloon League from 33 states and in addition to these there were many delegates from other organizations throughout the country who have for their object the furtherance of the temperance cause, most notable among whom were many representatives of the W. C. T. U. The representatives were from many walks of life and included in their numbers ministers, lawyers, physicians, manufacturers, and men from almost every calling, all bent upon making war upon the common enemy, rum. The conference was called at the suggestion of the Senators and Congressmen and the leaders in the cause of temperance; They visited the halls of congress and urged upon the members, both of the upper and lower houses, their claims upon their support for the passage of the Sheppard-Kenyon bill, now pending. They were received with uniform kindness and consideration, and felt very much encouraged with the promises of support, which it is believed will result in the ultimate passage of the bill. Nothing was left undone, no stone left unturned, no word unsaid, that it was thought would assist in creating a sentiment in and assist in the passage of the measure.

They had the pleasure of hearing debate upon the measure in which they were so deeply interested, and listened to speeches in its behalf from congressmen and senators, many of the advocates of the bill being among the most prominent members of the two houses. A Department of Legislation has been established in Washington, which is ably equipped, making it possible to keep the temperance forces in touch with conditions as they may arise in the halls of congress.

It developed that the entire country was aroused and were prepared to make the most persistent effort in the nations history to protect itself against fraud and imposition, and a fund of $500,000 is being raised to support this department. At the close of the sessions of the conference, a banquet was given at the hotel Raleigh, which is a marvel to even the friends of temperance; this was largely attended, and speeches were made by men of national prominence, including Senators, Congressmen and high army officials.

Senator Kenyon and Congressman Shepperd assert positively that the measure will pass by February 1st. Kentucky sent ten delegates and had the honor of being one of thirteen states from which the representatives were appointed by the Governor.

The above facts were given us by Bro. Tindler and embrace the gist of his sermon to his congregation on Sunday night Dec. 29th, and which embraced his report as a delegate to the above conference.

The Sheppard-Kenyon bill now pending in the U. S. Senate is of more vital importance to the temperance interests of the country than any measure that has ever been attempted; it seeks to prohibit by National statute the shipping of liquor from a wet state into a dry territory, and in case such shipment is made, to make it amenable to the laws of the state in which the dry territory is located. Its passage means that when a county becomes dry by local law, that it will be dry in truth, there will be no shipments to come in from "mail order houses across the river" to counteract the good results, which but for absence of a law prohibiting these shipments, would have resulted from the local legislation. It would mean the putting on of the severest restrictions ever placed upon the liquor traffic, and would be by far the greatest forward move ever accomplished in behalf of the cause of temperance.

The bill has been pending for some time, and has like all temperance legislation, been stubbornly fought, has been hung up with committees, placed on the "deferred list", and every possible obstacle placed in the way of its passage, but its authors and friends have kept it ever in view, and like "truth, crushed to earth", it would rise again, until now the prospects seem very bright for its early passage. May God speed the day.

Let Jesse Alverson Beware.

Our young friend, Jesse M. Alverson, of Lawrenceburg, has been sued for one hundred thousand dollars damages. Jesse said some things editorially which the County Judge and County Attorney of Anderson did not like. They have taken advantage of his lack of caution about letting everybody know his financial standing and demanded a part of what Jesse has made since moving into Anderson County some two years ago.

There ought to be a lesson in Jesse Alverson's sad fate to every wealthy newspaper man. And that is, to conceal as much as possible his material prosperity. Before he went to Anderson County Jesse Alverson was Assistant Clerk of the State Senate and was not generally known to be a wealthy man. He had lived and worked and sparred for political position over in Shelton Sautley's town of Stanford and was pretty well known among the big politicians. But that he was a magnate, a bloated bondholder, a malefactor of great wealth, was not known until the officials of Anderson County whose feelings he had injured demanded for said injuries the princely sum of one hundred thousand dollars. If they get a verdict in the courts it will wipe out every cent of Jesse's profits for at least a year and maybe for a year and a half. And if he escapes with a whole skin let him beware hereafter how he carelessly permits his prosperity to become public property. Between suits for libel and clashes with the back tax collector he stands a chance of losing his entire fortune if not the excellent reputation he had before entering the newspaper and political field in Anderson County. -Lexington Herald.

Again and again we have read of strangers in distant towns who have been cured by this or that medicine.
But Lancaster's pertinent question has always been "Has anyone here in Lan-stranger living a hundred miles away may be true, but cannot have the same weight with us as the word of our own citizens, whom we know and respect, and whose evidence we can so easily prove.

Ice Plant To Be Established In Lancaster

In The Early Spring A Long Felt Want To Be Supplied.

The Blue Grass Dairy & Ice Co.
with a paid up capital stock of $10,000 has been incorporated for the purpose of erecting and conducting an ice plant and creamery in Lancaster. Mr.
H. V. Bastin is President and will be the General Manager of the new industry. The new plant is to be erected in the rear and immediately adjoining the present creamery on Hamilton Avenue near Richmond street. The contract has already been let and the plant is to be completed by March 15th, unless inclement weather should delay it, and at any rate, not later than April 1st. The plant will have a capacity of 7½ tons per day, and it is the intention of the new concern to supply Garrard county with good pure ice at all times. The dairy herd of Mr. Bastin will still be maintained and his dairy and creamery business will not be interfered with by the new industry.

Mr. Bastin will also increase the ice cream output to 200 gallons per day.

Mr. Bastin has also associated with him Mr. Joseph S. Haselden, and they will install a complete bottling works for the bottling of carbonated waters.

The bottling plant will be adjacent to the creamery and ice plant and those industries will supply the water and power to operate the bottling plant.

This will be one of the few bottling plants in Kentucky to make use of distilled water in the manufacture of its products, which insures its purity.

Mr. Bastin shows the progressive spirit which is so essential and goes so far toward the building of a live town.

In the erection of an ice plant he will meet a long felt want for the people of the town and county, a want that it has been felt heretofore could not be made a success because of the inadequate water supply, but Mr. Bastin after having made a long and careful study of the situation, has decided to install a plant, making ice by what is known as the "absorption plan", a process which Mr. Bastin assures us will at all times insure a sufficient quantity of pure ice to supply the demands of the county, and too with the water supply now obtainable.

We predict for Mr. Bastin success for his undertaking from the very beginning and gladly welcome the new industry to Lancaster.

Mr. Bastin has had considerable experience in nursing new industries into paying investments. Some years in a modest way, he began the manufacture of ice cream in Lancaster, his business thrived, and his trade at first confined to the town, grew until he now supplies not only the entire county, but ships his product to many portions throughout this part of the state, and it has assumed such proportions as to necessitate the almost doubling of his capacity as to that particular commodity.

MODERN NEWSPAPER IS ENCYCLOPEDIA

Every Member of a Family Can Find Something of Interest In Its Columns.

The modern newspaper is an encyclopedia of facts for every citizen of the community. The wholesale merchant in the city or town picks up the market page and he knows the ruling prices in the products he sells. The farmer examines the same page and he finds what hogs are worth, what his sheep and cattle will sell for and what his tobacco will bring. The busy housewife or growing girl looks at the advertising pages of the paper and reads all about the bargains at the dry goods stores, grocery stores and the prices of the thousand and one commodities that she needs.

The farmer, if he is interested in his farm and wants to make money in it and through it, studies the farm information that is given in his newspaper and if he reads that faithfully he gets all the practical information that he could secure from the best farm journal.

When there is war in the Balkans follows the courses of the war. When there is an earthquake and fire in San Francisco every Kentuckian wants to know what is happening to his fellow American. There is no event in the great world that does not interest him.

Now the only way he can keep up with the march of events is by taking and reading a newspaper.

ECONOMY IN GROUND GRAIN

Enables Animal to Take Food Into Stomach In State of Ready and Thorough Digestion.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.)

Where food is ground before being fed, we are sure that the animal takes the food into its body in a state which will admit of a ready and thorough digestion and assimilation, while whole-grain rations often are but slightly chewed, swallowed and pass through the animal in that unchanged form.

This means not only a great waste of food, but also that it furnishes very little nutrition for the upbuilding of bone and muscular tissue. A feedgrinder soon pays for itself, especially in the winter, by avoiding any waste

Feed Grinder.

of grain and in promoting good health and rapid development among the live stock.

Companies using a large number of horses have found chopped and ground feeding both better and more economical. Corn, oats and other grains as rations for horses are used ground, and mixing the ground grain with moistened, chopped hay has proved to be a more economical stable regimen than feeding whole grain and uncut hay and roughage.

Chopped stover and all ground grain minimize the labor of mastication and assist easy assimilation of food nutrients. While it may not be always practical on the farm to provide chopped rations for horses, better results will be achieved by feeding grain rations, with but little hay at the noon meal and watering the animals before the midday meal. The use of a feed-grinder will pay big.

PROPER CULTURE OF CLOVER

Best Results Have Been Obtained on Black, Sandy Loam—Killing Danger Is In Spring.

My best results in clover growing have been on a black, sandy loam. So far I have grown exclusively the medium or common red clover, says a writer in the New England Homestead. I usually sow from eight to twelve pounds per acre on a well-prepared seed bed. I prefer sowing with a nurse crop. Wheat and barley both have been tried for this purpose. I prefer barley, as it does not form such a dense shade for the young clover plants when they are starting. The crop of clover grows rapidly, and cutting begins about July 4 in this locality, and sometimes a little earlier in the fields where clover is without any other grasses, and sometimes a little later if timothy and clover are mixed.

Clover is not grown to any great extent in this locality. The past two seasons have not been the best to secure a stand. The real danger of clover-killing comes in the spring.
When it freezes and thaws out, and the ground heaves the plants are torn loose and die. Whenever the snow collects it comes in fine shape in the spring. With the continued cultivation of this soil and with a large amount of manure worked into the soil will come better clover-raising in this part of the state.

FIXING RATES UNDER PARCEL POST SYSTEM

Government Goes Into Business of Transmitting Merchandise
Through the Mails.

NEW LAW FULLY EXPLAINED

Country Divided Into Zones and Units for Purpose of Fixing Charges for Carriage—No Package Weighing More Than Eleven Pounds Is Mailable—Anything Properly Wrapped
Which Will Not Injure Other Mail May Be Sent.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

With the coming of the New Year the United States government will enter into a new field of enterprise—the transmittal of merchandise by what is known as the parcel post. For years there has been a demand for such a system of inexpensive transmittal of packages. The camps of favor and disfavor of the parcel post scheme have been about equally divided. Finally at the last session of congress a bill was passed which will put the plan into operation, but only it must be said in little more than an experimental way.

It is the intention of Uncle Sam to move rather slowly in the parcel post matter. He wants to find how popular it will be, how much it will cost the government, and whether there is to be a profit or loss at the end of each year. If it is found that the plan is successful from the point of view of the people, which means the government also, the parcel post will be extended until finally it reaches the proportions which its proponents say they believe it is destined to assume.

Zone System Explained.
It is no exaggeration to say that thousands upon thousands of inquiries have been made of the postmaster general as to just what the parcel post will mean to the people. It was the law of congress establishing the system which made provision for a division of the country into zones and into 35,000 units which are to be used as centers in describing the circles which mark the boundaries of the zones. There has been no clear understanding, apparently, of this zone system, but really it is a very simple matter.

The accompanying map shows the country divided into zones from the unit in which Washington is situated, as the center. Accompanying the map is a table showing the rate of postage per pound for parcels from Washington to places within all the zones.

Each unit contains an area thirty miles square. Now each unit is a center from which the zones are drawn and so every unit in the country no matter where it is situated will have zones drawn from it just exactly as Washington has them drawn from it. For instance, take Keokuk, Ia., which is in a unit in the fifth zone. From that will be drawn circles exactly as they are drawn from Washington and they will be numbered from Keokuk as number one, just as they are numbered from Washington as number one. Of course, however, Zone Six will have a different geographical position as related to Washington, but as the radius of the circles drawn from Keokuk is the same length as the radius of the circles drawn from Washington, Keokuk's Zone Six will be just as far from its center as Washington's Zone Six is.

How Rates Are Fixed.
It can be seen from this readily enough that the postal rates from Washington to its particular zone will be the same as the postal rates from Keokuk to its particular zones. Each unit being about thirty miles square will of course contain in most cases a number of postoffices, but each office in the same unit is considered as being the center of the circles from which the zones are drawn. The rates of postage are fixed from the unit in which the sending postoffice is situated, but the price to every place in any zone is just the same. To illustrate, it will cost exactly the same amount to send a parcel from Washington to Erie, Pa., that it costs to send it to Atlanta, Ga., because Erie and Atlanta are situated in the fourth zone. The rates therefore are fixed from the unit in which the postoffice is located, but they are the same from that office to any point in any one zone.

It will be seen by reference to the table of rates of postage that it will cost more per pound to send a package a long distance than it does to send it a short distance. The rate increases for a package weighing one pound at the rate of one cent for each zone. No package weighing more than 11 pounds can be sent under the new parcel post law. It should be said right here that on the long hauls the parcel post may not be able to compete with the express companies, but that on shorter hauls it can so compete. It was the expressed desire of the legislators and of the postoffice officials that the parcel post system should be made of particular use to persons having farm and factory products to transmit to customers. It is probable that producers must study the rates of postage and the convenience of transmittal and compare them with the cost and convenience under present methods before individually a man can determine whether he is to profit or not by the change. There is another thing to be considered and which only can be known definitely when fuller regulations have been made to specify exactly what kind of things can be sent by parcel post. It can be said in a general way that anything can be sent which is properly wrapped and which will not injure other mail matter with which it may come in contact.

Copy Foreign Countries.
It is probable that the government will adopt a means of transportation for certain kinds of its merchandise much like those which have been adopted in parcel post countries abroad. What the English call hampers, basketlike arrangements, probably will be adopted, and as these can be kept separate from the ordinary mail matter it is believed that the regulations as finally adopted will allow the sending of eggs, butter, dressed poultry, live poultry, honey, fruit, and other products of the country.

The 11-pound limit for a single package may work at first against any parcel for some of the articles which have been named. Of course, more weight can be sent if it is sent in different parcels, but the cost in that case would be heavier because the increase per pound on a single package is not great up to 11 pounds, and probably it would increase at no greater rate if the government were to raise the limit of weight which is now fixed. To make it simpler, it will cost more to send two packages of 11 pounds than it would to send one package of 22 pounds if the government eventually should allow a heav-

Parcels weighing four ounces or less are mailable at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than four ounces are mailable at the pound rate, as shown by the following table, and when mailed at this rate any fraction of a pound is considered a full pound.

now furnished with scales of a limited capacity makes it necessary for the postmaster general to make this very large purchase of scales capable of taking care of the parcel post business. It is understood that this will be the largest single order ever placed for scales.

Rate on Seeds Not Affected.
It should be said that the act of congress which puts a parcel post plan into operation does not in any way affect the postage rate on seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions and plants as fixed by section 482 of the postal laws and regulations.

The classification of articles mailable as well as the weight limit, the rates of postage, zone or zones and other conditions of mailability under the act of congress, if the postmaster general shall find on experience "that they or any of them are such as to prevent the shipment of articles desirable, or shall permanently render the cost of the service greater than the receipts of the revenue therefrom, he is hereby authorized, subject to the consent of the interstate commerce commission after investigation, to reform from time to time such classification, weight limit, rates, zone or zones or conditions, in order to promote the service to the public or to insure the receipt of revenue from such service adequate to pay the cost thereof."

Through many years different members of the house and senate have been interested in promoting parcel post legislation. Among the men most active in securing the legislation which soon is to go into effect as law are Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, Representatives David J. Lewis of Maryland and William Sulzer of New York, who has just been elected governor of that state.

To ascertain conditions surrounding the establishment of the parcel post system in places differing widely in size, climate and industries, Postmaster General Hitchcock recently summoned to Washington, to confer with the special parcel post committee, the postmasters of five typical offices. They are William H. Davis, Pittsburg, Pa.; Daniel T. Gerow, Jacksonville, Fla.; M. H. Joster, Wilmington, Del.; E. M. C. Quimby, Suffolk, Va., and Henry N. Bradley, Charlestown, W. Va.

Confer With Postmasters.
The postmasters of the five largest offices in the country have already appeared before the committee, so Pittsburg was represented as being a large first class office, though smaller than any of the greater five, and as being the center of a tremendous manufacturing area. The postmaster of Pittsburg reported that the board of trade of that city has a special parcel post committee, working toward bringing the consumer and producer nearer to each other by the new system. He also said that many of the merchants are planning to have their city deliveries made by parcel post.

Wilmington, Del., represented a large farming and manufacturing district, with its mail connections close with Philadelphia, one of the largest offices. Jacksonville is the largest office in Florida, and the outlet for all the mail of the state. It is peculiar in having a special increase of force in winter, the tourist season, and the postmaster said that it was expected that travelers would use the parcel post extensively in sending home five and ten-pound packages of fruit.

Suffolk, Va., and Charlestown, W. Va., are both very small second class offices, one in the tide-water district, with large truck interests; the other far inland in an orchard country, with diversified farm products. The postmasters of both offices reported great interest in the parcel post, and said that they had continual inquiries regarding its scope.

From these postmasters the committee was able to glean a great amount of valuable information, which, added to that gained from the recent hearings in Maryland, puts it in a position to plan the details of the service to the greatest advantage of the producing farmer.

Give Him Time.
"You're a pretty old man to be beginnin'," said the lady to the man at the back door.
"Yes, ma'am," replied the man with his hat in his hand.
"Have you been bogging all your life?"

Circuit Court In Danville.

The January term of the Boyle Circuit Court began Monday with an unusually light docket. Judge Hardin has since he began his duties as Circuit Judge expended considerable labor in the task of clearing the docket in the various courts of the old cases which have accumulated, and this task being completed, he is now preparing to devote the time of the courts to the trial of "appearance" or new cases.
The results which will necessarily follow this proceeding upon the part of His Honor will be that litigants will be able to have their cases speedily disposed of without experiencing the long and tiresome waits which were necessitated by the former congested condition of the dockets.

George P. Tate Dies In Somerset.

Mrs. Benjamin Ham of Hyattsville received the sad intelligence on last Monday afternoon of the death in Arkansas of her brother, Mr. George P.
Tate, and she left at once for Somerset their former home to be present at the funeral. Mr. Tate was a warm personal friend of the assistant Editor of the Record and it was with sincere regret that we learned of his death.
Mr. Tate until a few years ago lived in Somerset and was one of the pioneer, as well as one of the most extensive dealers, in the cross tie and stave business. He has been a long sufferer from stomach trouble, and removed to Eureka Springs Ark. in the hope that the change would prove beneficial.
Mr. Tate was a jovial, kind hearted man, a splendid gentleman and citizen, and a host of friends throughout eastern Kentucky, where he was extensively known, will regret to hear of his death.

"The Land Of Now" Seems To Be Sleeping Peacefully While Her More Pro- gressive Neighbors Reap The Fruits Of Her Industry.

Speaking of Garrard county's most crying need, a home market for her tobacco, what has become of the "Garrard County Development Association", that commercial body organized a few years since under such propitious circumstances, adopting for its slogan "The Land Of Now"? Is it not the proper body to look after the organization of a company having for its object the establishment of a loose leaf or some other kind of a home market for our tobacco? There is strength in numbers, and it seems to us that this organization could more readily than any individual take this matter in hand and push it to a successful conclusion. Let us have a meeting of this long dormant body and see what can be accomplished in the matter.
We have a home market for our corn, wheat, hay and other farm products,
then why not for our tobacco.
The money received for these products goes into the coffers of the home merchants and through the home banks, then why not the money received for our tobacco.
Home labor is employed at our mills, our granaries and other industries that are provided to take care of home products. Home labor would be employed at a home tobacco market.
Why not establish one and utilize the home labor.
There is not a merchant or business man in Lancaster who would not profit materially through the establishment of a tobacco market in Lancaster.
Then get busy Mr. Merchant, get behind this movement, lend your influence to the effort to establish this market.
Concerted action upon the part of all of our citizens is sure to become profitable of good results.

"Les" Herndon An Expert Chicken Raiser.

Mr. W. L. Herndon, son of Capt.
Wm. Herndon of this place, who resides and conducts a successful truck and chicken farm at Crestwood in Jefferson county, has developed into one of the leading chicken raisers in Kentucky.
Les, taste does not run to the fighting or exhibition fowls, but to the old fashioned practical ones, the layers, the ones that produce the revenue.
In the egg laying contest now being conducted under the auspices of the Louisville Evening Post, Mr. Herndon has entered a pen of White Leghorns, which are far and away ahead of anything in that particular class, and in fact are producing as many eggs per week as any other variety of chickens entered in the contest.

Scandal Threatened In Washington By The Investigation Of Two Large Fire Insurance Companies.

A subcommittee of the National House threatens to unearth a scandal which may involve some of the most prominent business men in the Capitol city. The committee is investigating the affairs of the Commercial Fire Insurance Co. and the First National Fire Insurance Co., both of which have their headquarters in the city of Washington, but whose stocks have been sold broadcast throughout the country.
The companies recently bought jointly one of Washington's newest fire proof office buildings, paying therefor $1,500,- 000. It is alleged that in a few days following the purchase they listed it among their assets at a valuation of $2,000,000, and upon the strength of this apparent increase of $500,000 in their assets, increased the price of their stock. This transaction, and the further allegation that they declared a dividend from the proceeds of the sale of stock are two charges which will receive notice at the hands of the investigating committee.

Long.

Mr. John P. Long died at his home on Richmond street in this city on last Monday morning at 2:30 o'clock. His death was not unexpected as he has been in feeble health for many months and for the past week his life has hung in the balance. After funeral services at the house at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning by Rev. O. P. Bush, all that was mortal of the kind husband and father and good citizen was placed at rest in the Lancaster cemetery. Mr.
Long was born in Madison county Ky.
on May 24, 1837 and was the son of Perry and Susie Tudor Long. He was united with the Baptist church at Gilead in that county fifty years ago and had ever been a consistent member, he was also one of the oldest members of the Masonic lodge at Kirksville Ky.
Mr. Long's entire life, until he removed to Lancaster less than two years ago, was spent in Madison county, where he was held in the highest esteem for his many noble qualities.
He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Fannie West of Madison county, a relative of the family of Mrs. Rebecca West of this place, and by one son, Mr. Robert Long Jr. of Buckeye this county and four daughters, Mrs.
Hattie Coy, wife of Mr. James Coy of Kirksville, Mrs. Jennie Perkins, wife of Dr. J. H. Perkins of Henrietta Okla., Mrs. Susie Dozier of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Cora Burton, wife of Mr.
Richard Burton of this county.
Mr. Long since his removal to Lancaster has not been able to mingle much with the people of the community owing to his feeble condition, but there were many who knew him and with all whom he came in contact he added to his list of warm friends and admirers. He was a conservative man, but extremely kind hearted and those who knew him best can bear witness to his many splendid characteristics.
The entire community is grieved that Mr. Long with his splendid reputation as a good citizen in our neighboring county of Madison, could not be spared longer as a citizen in the place where he had chosen to reside, but He who doeth all things well, deemed otherwise, and the Record can but join with his friends and neighbors in condolence to the griefed wife and family in their great loss.

To School Teachers And Trustees.

As all schools in the county are now closed, you are urgently requested to in your possession at once to enable me

Strong New Firm Of Dentists.

Dr. M. K. Denny has associated with himself for the practice of his profession, Dr. William A. Wheeler, and the new firm will be located in the handsome office of Dr. Denny over Hurt & Anderson's furniture store. The firm name will be Denny & Wheeler. Dr.
Wheeler has been practicing in the county for over a year and is a splendid dentist. He was born and reared in the Nina locality and is a splendid gentleman. Dr. Denny is too well known to need a word of commendation from us.
We predict success from the beginning

Waters Raging.

The rains of Monday and Tuesday turned every rivulet in the county into a raging torrent, and scarcely a stream in the county but what was past Ford-ing, Dix river being higher than in twenty years. At the bridge on the old Danville pike it was over the turnpike and the bridge could not be crossed.
Rural carriers were hampered in their work, compelled to make wide detours and otherwise inconvenienced, and traffic in the country was practically at a standstill. Beyond the destruction of water gates and fencing we have learned of no serious damage wrought by the floods.

That Bad Cold.

Vapor Treatment Surely Does Clean Out That Stuffed Up Head.

Don't try to break up a cold with dangerous stomach disturbing drugs. Get directly to the inflamed membrane by breathing HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me). Get a bottle for 50 cents at R. E. McRoberts and try this rapid and economical treatment that thousands are using.

Into a bowl of boiling water pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with a towel, and breathe deep into the lungs the healing vapor that arises.

Breathe this vapor for five or ten minutes until the head feels fine and clear, then go to bed and sleep soundly until morning. No cocaine or opium or harmful drugs in HYOMEI. It is made of Australian Eucalyptus and other antiseptics. It is guaranteed to end catarrh, or money back.

Always Some Remedy.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson says that poverty is a disease. Well, there is the gold cure!—Judge.

Velvet From the Arabs.

In the middle ages Venice and Genoa learned the art of velvet-making from the Arabs. Toward the year 1516 Lyon inherited the business. Europe, notably France, followed the lead of the courtiers of Francis I., Louis XIV. and La Pompadour. The courts of the world wore silk, satin and velvet stiff with gold and silver embroidery. Velvet was used by the rich for hangings and for furniture cover. In Lyon, in 1900, 26,000 looms were weaving velvet.—Harper's Weekly.

MI-O-NA

Stomach Tablets

Drive Out Gas And Sourness At Once And End Dyspepsia.

Don't complain; if your meals do not digest get a 50 cent box of MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets today and stop distress, gas, sourness, fermentation and that lump of lead feeling in five minutes.

And why should any sensible person ever suffer from any stomach trouble, when R. E. McRoberts & Son is authorized to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied person if MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets do not do away with Indigestion, Acute or Chronic Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Nervousness and Sleeplessness.

For Vomiting of Pregnancy and the effects of over-eating, drinking or smoking they are simply fine.

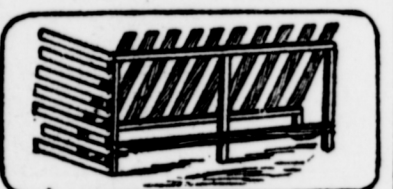

Fitted for the Part.

When a new member of the Irish house of commons made his first speech, Sir William Osborne asked who he was, and, being told, he replied: "Well, I think he will do. If the opposition have enlisted him they are perfectly in the right, for he seems to have the finest face for a grievance of any man I ever beheld."—National Monthly.

RACK FOR OPEN CATTLE YARD

Device, Found to Be Entirely Satisfactory, May Be Made by Use of Eleven-Foot Poles.

A very satisfactory open yard cattle rack may be made by the use of eleven foot poles, eight feet apart and two feet in the ground. To the outside nail 2x6's two and one-half feet from the ground for the top of the manger, says the Iowa Homestead. Cut the poles off level six feet above the 2x6's and nail pole on top. Now set a six-foot post one foot inside of the other posts and cut off level so the top will be one foot above the 2x6's, nail pole on top and nail 1x6's, five and a quarter feet long, from pole to pole five inches apart. For the end use 1x6's eight feet long and six feet wide on the outside. The material used for the rack is as follows:

Open Yard Cattle Rack.

Four poles sixteen feet long; six poles eleven feet long for posts, six poles six feet long for posts, four poles four feet long for posts, two 2x6's sixteen feet long for manger, four 2x6's six feet long for ends, twenty-two 1x6's sixteen feet long for all, two and a half pounds of thirty-penny nails, two pounds of eight-penny fencing nails, and one pound of ten-penny fencing nails for ends.

Quickest Gains When Young.
In a well-bred hog that is growing and feeding right there is no time when it will make more pork for the food consumed than from ten weeks to six months of age, but as a rule will vary somewhat with different animals.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Hogs will not lie in dirt unless compelled to do so.

Pack off every old sheep before solid winter sets in.

Clean troughs and mangers are essential to health and profit.

Powdered charcoal fed in slop to hogs is a good cure for scours.

Superannuated and otherwise undesirable ewes should be gotten rid of.

After the pigs are two months old they can eat most anything in the grain line.

At weaning time colts should be taken away entirely out of sight of the mothers.

Talk is cheap, but it takes money to buy a pure bred sire. It will pay, nevertheless.

Castrate every male lamb that will be an eyesore to yourself or do mischief to any purchaser.

Take every precaution to gain the confidence of the ewes after they are put in the barn for the winter.

Sheep dogs in England, Scotland and France are the most serious of animals, and are hard-working.

The better your sire the better your lambs, and so the more money you will get from your flock next year.

Unless the fattening steer has all the pure water he can drink at all time he will not lay on fat quickly.

The pedigreed sire has been the power in building up size and draft form in our American stock of horses.

Many farmers will let the steer trample $100 worth of feed into the mud rather than spend $25 for a feed rack.

Small potatoes, turnips and other vegetables cooked in a large kettle or in a feed cooker make good food for young pigs.

A good pasture is the foundation stone of successful hog raising, and it is as a pasture for swine that alfalfa is utilized to the best advantage.

A flock of sheep will waste more than hay enough to pay for the lumber to build a good rack in a single winter, if you feed them out on the ground.

Record Loses Good Correspondent.

The Record mourns the loss of one of its most efficient correspondents, Miss Florence Christopher, who for many years has chronicled the happenings at Buena Vista, has very much to our regret, severed her connection with the paper. Owing to the death of her father, which occurred recently, and the consequent breaking up of the family, Miss Christopher has removed to Burgin Ky.

Miss Alice Mabel Scott, who has had considerable training under Miss Christopher, will succeed her, and the chain of interesting news from that section will not be broken.

Golden Wedding.

One of the most elegant social functions that has ever occurred in Garrard county was the reception that Mr. and Mrs. John William Glass gave on Wednesday at their home near Bryantville, to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The hours were from eleven until three o'clock, the house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, quantities of pink roses and narcissus with asparagus plumosa were used in the parlor. The living room was also very artistically decorated with narcissus and ferns, Marechal Neil roses prevailed in the dining room, where the color scheme of yellow and white was effectively used.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. William L. Glass and Mrs. Holman Glass, of Jessamine county and were ushered into the parlor where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. John William Glass. Mrs. Glass was charming in a handsome gown of black charmeuse. Then they were invited into the living room where they had the pleasure of writing their names in the "Bride's Book." Mrs. Margaret Sparks, of Nicholasville, presiding here. The guests then entered the dining room where a most elaborate six course dinner was served, the table was beautiful in its appointments, yellow tulle extending from the chandelier to each corner of the table, caught with a graceful bow and a Marechal Neil rose, a golden basket, the handle tied with a bow of yellow tulle and filled with Marechal Neil and surrounded by a bed of the roses was the attractive centerpiece. Golden candlesticks with yellow candles, with their soft light, added very much to the attractiveness of the table, also, the cut glass compotes filled with olives, salted almonds and the yellow and white heart shaped mints.

The guests were seated at the table and were served by Misses Irene Saunders, Mary Lee and Frances Glass, grand-daughters of the house. They were very daintily gowned in white lingerie. Mrs. C. C. Glass and Mrs. Letcher Saunders, of Jessamine, also assisted in the dining room. The favors were Marechal Neil roses. A delicious repast was served, consisting of Orange Punch, Old ham, beaten biscuit, turkey and cranberry jelly, chicken salad, escalloped oysters, celery branches, pearls and crystallized apples. The ices were moulded as lilies in yellow and white and the cakes, heart shaped in the same colors were made by a Cincinnati caterer. Later, hot coffee and heart shaped pimento and olive sandwiches were served.

Many handsome presents were received, among them being the handsome gold lined "Loving Cup" presented by the children.

About 85 invitations were issued. Among the guests were only four who were present at their former wedding. Those from a distance who attended were Major Baehr, Miss Mattie Baehr, Cincinnati, Mrs. Bettie Peyton, Mrs. C. W. Welch, Miss Ella Welch, Mrs. Margaret Sparks, Mrs. Edwin Rogers, Mrs. Mollie Saunders, Nicholasville, Dr. E. H. Pearce, Danville, Mrs. Mattie Frisbie and Mrs. Ellen Oswley, Lancaster.

Their children were all present and the occasion was a most happy one for all the members of the family, while each guest departed feeling that the hospitality which is so characteristic of the South had been dispensed throughout the reception and hoping that Mr. and Mrs. Glass will be able to spend many more happy days together.

Series Of Temperance Meetings.

Under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. and the local ministers, Dr. N. W. Tracy, the "Kentucky Temperance Evangelist" will begin a series of temperance lectures at the Court House on Thursday night, January 16th and will continue to, and including, Monday night January 27th. Dr. Tracy held temperance meetings in Lancaster thirty years ago under the old "Francis Murphy" movement. He is an interesting talker and his heart is in the cause. Everyone should come out and hear him.

U. S. Army Seeks Saddle Horses In Garrard.

Private F. A. Alexander U. S. A. of Ft. Leavenworth Kan. has been in Lancaster for several days seeking to buy a couple of fancy saddle horses for two army officers at his Kansas post. Through the instrumentality of Dr. J. B. Kinnaird he succeeded in buying one extra nice sorrel 5 year old horse of Victor Sanders, paying $200. Thereby. By a remarkable coincidence this horse is for the use of Lieut. Kinnard, who is a friend of Dr. Kinnaird, but no relation and their names are spelled differently. Mr. Alexander will endeavor to buy one more horse before he leaves.

Claims Of Garrard And Boyle As To Who Shall Furnish The Senatorial Candidate To Be Decided In Stanford On Saturday, January 11th.

Chairman George L. Penny of the Democratic District Committee has called a meeting of the said committee to be held in Stanford, Kentucky, on next Saturday, January, 11th, at which meeting the claims of Messrs C. R. Anderson of Boyle County and James I. Hamilton of Garrard, as to which shall become the candidate for State Senator from this district, will be decided. Attorney Henry Jackson of Danville will represent Mr. Anderson before the committee, while Attorney Joe E. Robinson will look after the interests of Mr. Hamilton.

Lancaster Becoming Metropolitan.

By the coming of warm weather Lancaster will have developed into quite a metropolitan city; an ice plant, a bottling works, creamery, mills, granaries, an auto-bus line, she is rapidly developing into one of the busiest little towns in Central Kentucky. Our most crying necessity, and something which we must have, is a local market for our splendid tobacco crops, and we are going to have one too.

Warden Notes.

All hunting license issued in 1912 are void after December 31, 1912. A license issued January 1st, 1913 or any time during the year is good until January 1st, 1914, and costs one dollar.

Demand a license of all hunters and see that they are issued in 1913 to expire January 1st, 1914, and report all violations to the Warden or Fish & Game Association at Danville.

The closed season for quail, partridge or pheasant is from January 1st to Nov. 15th.

There are two closed seasons for squirrels, from Feb. 1st to June 15th, and from Sept. 15th to Nov. 15th. The closed season for doves is from Feb. 1st to Aug. 1st, woodcock from Feb. 1st to June 20th, wild geese and ducks from April 1st to Aug. 15th.

The possession of any bird or animal protected by law during the closed season or period which their killing is prohibited will subject you to a fine of five dollars for each bird or animal or imprisonment not less than five or more than thirty days. The law permits fishing with a trot line, hook and line, spodge hook, gig and dip net. You can use a minnow seine four feet deep and less than ten feet long to catch minnows for bait but not use it for any other purpose.
